Greetings from UPLB DevComSoc!

The UPLB Development Communicators' Society, Inc. is a duly recognized academic organization that has been a venue of harnessing academic excellence, independence of thought, and leadership since 1972. For 49 years, the organization continues to put premium in serving the people, encouraging social change, and promoting the practice of development communication.

In light of our 49 years of service as an academic organization, the UPLB DevComSoc will be organizing an online conference entitled PANIMULAT: MAGSULAT. MAG-ULAT. MAMULAT! With the year's theme of "Sipat-siyasat sa mga Piraso ng Komunikasyong Pangkaunlaran" Formerly known as Sulyap, the organization decided to improve and widen its reach to further uphold and achieve our goals. The event aims to introduce the students to the field of Development Communication and encourage them to consider themselves as one of the Development Communication practitioners in the future.

The said event will include two activities: 1.) a two (2) category competition which are: CATEGORY 1: News script writing and news video presentation through the TikTok and CATEGORY 2: Infographic-making about Covid-19 that will be held from January 5, 2022 until January 12, 2022, where prizes will be given to the winning participants; 2.) an online conference on Development Communication as a field of study that will be held on February 5, 2022 via ZOOM. The event will be limited to Grade 11 students of any strand from different schools in the country

As such, UPLB DevComSoc would like to invite you and help us achieve the success of this event by giving us the seal of endorsement of your good office and aid us in disseminating this information to various schools in the region.

Further guidelines for the event are enclosed herewith. For inquiries, you may email us at uplbdevcomsoc.inc@gmail.com

Thank you and we hope for your favorable response. God bless!
