Dear Dr. Fetalvero;

Greetings of Peace!

The officers and members of Home Economics and Technology Teachers' Organization of the Philippines (HETTOP), Inc. will conduct its NATIONAL CONVENTION: SUSTAINABLE IMPLEMENTATION OF INNOVATIVE SKILLS IN HOME ECONOMICS AND TECHNOLOGY EDUCATION which will be held from November 21-23, 2024, at the Carlos P. Romulo Hall, Teachers Camp, Baguio City. We expect more than 250 participants from all-over the Philippines.

On behalf of HETTOP Inc., I am writing to request an ADVISORY from the Department of Education for our upcoming event which aims to bring together over 250 participants from across the Philippines, including educators and professionals specializing in Agri-Fishery Arts, Home Economics, Industrial Arts, and Information and Communication Technology. The training is accredited by the Philippine Regulation Commission (PRC), and CPD points will be awarded to all attendees.

The knowledge and skills to be imparted during this convention are both timely and relevant, addressing the latest innovations in teaching methodologies and technology integration. We are pleased to announce that our event will feature competent and highly commendable keynote and resource speakers who are leaders in their respective fields. Their expertise and insights will provide invaluable contributions to the professional development of our attendees.

By focusing on the sustainable implementation of innovative practices, our sessions will equip educators with cutting-edge tools and strategies to enhance their instructional effectiveness and adapt to the rapidly evolving educational landscape.

We believe that an advisory from the Department of Education will greatly enhance the visibility and impact of this event, encouraging more educators to participate and benefit from this valuable professional development opportunity.

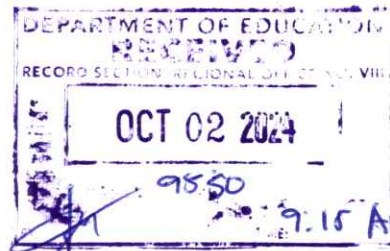

Attached herewith are the necessary documents for your perusal, including the event program, matrix of activity, and registration details. We respectfully request the Department's endorsement to maximize outreach and facilitate the involvement of more educators.

Thank you for considering our request. We look forward to your favorable response.

Warm regards,

JOSELITO P. PATIO, EdD.
Corporate President, HETTOP, Inc.

SUSTAINABLE IMPLEMENTATION OF INNOVATIVE SKILLS IN HOME ECONOMICS AND TECHNOLOGY EDUCATION:
2024 ANNUAL CONVENTION FOR HOME ECONOMICS AND TECHNOLOGY TEACHERS ORGANIZATION OF THE PHILIPPINES

RATIONALE

The Home Economics and Technology Teachers' Organization of the Philippines (HETTOP), Incorporated, has been offering teacher's training, seminars, workshops, and civic group activities since 2016, demonstrating a commitment to professional development and educational excellence.

Over the years, its persistence in sustained efforts to meet the evolving educational needs of teachers in the fields of home economics, technology education, and other related specializations has been continuous. This commitment signals adaptability to changes in teaching methodologies, technology, and curriculum. The organization's longevity contributes to a wealth of experience, resources, and a well-established network within the education sector, enhancing the quality and effectiveness of the teacher training programs.

This year annual training focuses on the Sustainable Implementation of Innovative Skills in Home Economics and Technology Education. The goal is to empower educators to become forward-thinking, environmentally conscious, and skills-oriented Home Economics and Technology Teachers-Innovators. This training will provide opportunities for educators in various disciplines to enrich and upgrade their innovative skills through new networks. It aims to foster collaboration on different knowledge and skills within their respective areas, showcased through exhibits of the said endeavour.

The field of Home Economics and Technology Education is dynamic, with new technologies and methodologies emerging. To ensure educators stay updated with the latest trends and enhance their innovation skills, the following training objectives are:

1. Equip educators with practical skills and resources for implementing sustainable techniques and practices in home economics and technology education.
2. Elevate pedagogical innovation by introducing cutting-edge initiatives and exploring innovation trends.
3. Acquire practical insights and resources for implementing innovative teaching strategies inspired by the MATATAG Curriculum.
4. Upgrade participants on TESDA's latest developments in skills training and education.
5. Facilitate connections between educators, industry professionals, and experts, fostering a collaborative environment for knowledge exchange and best practices.
6. Establish a framework for continuous improvement, encouraging educators to reflect on teaching practices, seek feedback, and implement changes based on evolving educational needs.
7. Recognize educators who have demonstrated exceptional innovation and leadership in various fields of discipline, including home economics and other areas within EPP, TLE, TVE, and TVL.
