Dr. EVELYN R. FETALVERO, CESO III
Regional Director
DepEd Region 8

Director Fetalvero:

Greetings of peace from APNIEVE-Philippines!

We are pleased to invite you and your colleagues to the 2nd International Convention and 23rd APNIEVE National Convention, on November 22-24, 2024, at Leyte Normal University, Tacloban City, and via Zoom. APNIEVE aims to promote and develop international education and values education for peace, human rights, democracy, and sustainable development through networking and cooperation among individuals and institutions in the Asia Pacific region.

With this, we request a memorandum/advisory from your Office for the said activity. Participants of this assembly will be teachers and administrators from various schools both public and private.

APNIEVE aims to promote and develop international education and values education for peace, human rights, democracy, and sustainable development through networking and cooperation among individuals, and institutions in the Asia Pacific region. The late DECS Secretary, Dr. Lourdes R. Quisumbing founded it.

The theme of this conference/convention is “Educating for Lasting Peace Empowering Values Education and International Education for Peace, Justice, and Inclusion,” an adaptation of the theme of the International Day of Education for 2024. The conference/convention aims to:

1. Provide a platform for participants to explore and discuss effective strategies for integrating values education into curricula to promote peace, justice, and inclusion.
2. Equip educators with the knowledge, skills, and resources needed to effectively teach values that promote peace, justice, and inclusion in diverse educational settings.
3. Facilitate collaboration and knowledge-sharing among educators, policymakers, researchers, and practitioners to advance values education for lasting peace, justice, and inclusion.
4. Inspire participants to take concrete actions in their respective contexts to promote values education for lasting peace, justice, and inclusion, fostering a collective commitment to positive social change.

Participants of this convention are basic education and higher education teachers, guidance counselors, and administrators from various schools, colleges, and universities of different regions of the country.

The registration fee and individual membership fee for one year is Php 3,000.00 for onsite participants and Php1,400 (local) and $25 (international) for online participants. For registration.

UNESCO - APNIEVE Philippines

Asia-Pacific Network for International Education and Values Education

Title: UNESCO-APNIEVE Philippines 2nd International Conference and 23rd National Convention in HyFlex (onsite and online streaming via Zoom) Mode

Theme: Education for Lasting Peace: Empowering Values Education and International Education for Peace, Justice, and Inclusion

Dates and Venue: November 22-24 (Friday, Saturday, Sunday), 2024, Leyte Normal University, Tacloban City and via Zoom

Background

APNIEVE is a non-profit organization of individuals and institutions from the private and public sectors and is affiliated with the United Nations Educational, Social, and Cultural Organization (UNESCO). The network was founded by a group of eight experts from Australia, Indonesia, Japan, Korea, Malaysia, the Philippines, the Russian Federation, and Thailand in March 1995 in Seoul.

Inspired by UNESCO's vision-mission of "Peace for Development and Development for Peace," APNIEVE was created "to promote and develop international education and values education for peace, human rights, democracy, and sustainable development through networking and cooperation among individuals, groups, and institutions working on these fields in the Asia Pacific and the rest of the world."

The organization achieves this through the "preparation of teaching-learning materials and the training of administrators and teachers from all levels in the use of a holistic approach to education and the integration of values across the curriculum."

APNIEVE's network in the Philippines receives support from the Philippines National Commission for UNESCO, to conduct a series of teacher training workshops to enhance the competencies of teachers in values education. APNIEVE – Philippines promotes inter-cultural understanding, peace, human rights, and sustainable development through acquiring skills for valuing processes, building broad support for peace education, and training various groups of educators in the Philippines.

APNIEVE has a shared vision for the collaborative promotion of peace, harmony, intercultural understanding, human rights, democracy, and sustainable development. Through a range of educational activities, personal and collective research, exploration of values, and profound social issues of local and global importance, APNIEVE achieves its goal of enhancing personal, humanistic, and universal values.

*APNIEVE Philippines announces its 2nd International Conference and 23rd National Convention with the theme, Education for Lasting Peace: Empowering Values Education and International Education for Peace, Justice, and Inclusion

UNESCO celebrated its 6th International Day of Education, last January 26, 2024, with the theme, Education for Lasting Peace: Countering Hate Speech through Education.

“The world is seeing a surge of violent conflicts paralleled by a concerning rise of intolerance and discrimination. In particular, hate speech can take dangerous forms that not only causes harm at the personal level and incites group-targeted violence but is also an attack on inclusion, diversity, and human rights. In this context, an active commitment to peace is more urgent than ever. This commitment ought to surpass security and defense measures to prevent or stop conflicts, for peace does not begin where violence ends. Sustaining peace requires a strong foundation of inclusive, democratic and participatory governance, dialogue, solidarity, mutual understanding and cooperation, sustainable development, gender equality and the general realization of human rights and fundamental freedoms. Education is key to this endeavor.

The 2024 APNIEVE International Conference and National Convention’s theme is precisely focused on educating for lasting peace, and building harmony in diversity.

Through educational strategies for peace and tolerance, values such as empathy, respect, and acceptance are cultivated, empowering individuals to engage in constructive dialogue and bridge cultural divides. Countering hate speech through education and media literacy underscores the importance of critical thinking and ethical reasoning in recognizing and challenging harmful narratives, thereby promoting values of justice, fairness, and solidarity. Community-based approaches to building peace emphasize the intrinsic values of cooperation, compassion, and reconciliation, fostering a sense of belonging and collective responsibility within diverse communities. Lastly, global perspectives on peace education and conflict resolution highlight values such as global citizenship, intercultural understanding, and social responsibility, encouraging individuals to advocate for peace and justice on a global scale.

Objectives: In the spirit of the 2024 International Day of Education, the APNIEVE International Conference and National Convention aims to:

1. Provide a platform for participants to explore and discuss effective strategies for integrating values education into curricula to promote peace, justice, and inclusion.
2. Equip educators with the knowledge, skills, and resources needed to effectively teach values that promote peace, justice, and inclusion in diverse educational settings.
3. Facilitate collaboration and knowledge-sharing among educators, policymakers, researchers, and practitioners to advance values education for lasting peace, justice, and inclusion.
4. Inspire participants to take concrete actions in their respective contexts to promote values education for lasting peace, justice, and inclusion, fostering a collective commitment to positive social change.

Conference Sub Themes

The sub-themes outlined below encompass a comprehensive approach to values education within the context of promoting peace, countering hate speech, and fostering inclusive communities. They also focus on promoting innovative teaching strategies for integrating peace into the curriculum.

1. Promoting Tolerance and Understanding: Focusing on educational strategies and initiatives aimed at fostering empathy, tolerance, and mutual respect among individuals and communities.
Integrating dialogue, understanding, and cooperation among people of different faiths, cultures, and backgrounds in the classroom.
2. Critical Thinking, Media Literacy, and Countering Hate Speech: Examining the role of education in developing critical thinking skills and media literacy to recognize and counter hate speech in traditional and digital media platforms.
3. Peace Education Curriculum Development: Discussing approaches to integrating peace education into formal and informal curricula at all levels of education, from primary schools to universities.
4. Global Citizenship Education and Youth Engagement for Peacebuilding: Fostering values, attitudes, and skills that empower individuals to contribute to a more peaceful, just, and sustainable world.
Highlighting the importance of empowering young people as agents of positive change and peacebuilding through education, activism, and community engagement.
5. Gender Equality and Peace Education: Analyzing the intersection of gender equality and peace education, including the importance of addressing gender-based violence and promoting women's participation in peacebuilding efforts.
6. Teacher Training and Capacity Building: Discussing strategies for equipping educators with the knowledge, skills, and resources needed to effectively teach and integrate peace education in diverse classroom settings.
7. Concern for the Environment, Human Rights, and Safety: Concern for the environment, human rights, and safety cultivates a sense of responsibility and empathy among students and teachers, fostering a culture of respect and cooperation essential for peaceful coexistence.

UNESCO - APNIEVE Philippines CALL FOR PRESENTATIONS 2024

UNESCO-APNIEVE Philippines announces its 2nd International Conference and 23rd National Convention in HyFlex (onsite and online streaming via Zoom) Mode with the theme, Education for Lasting Peace: Empowering Values Education and International Education for Peace, Justice, and Inclusion

Dates and Venue: November 22-24 (Friday, Saturday, Sunday), 2024, Leyte Normal University, Tacloban City and via Zoom

Objectives: In the spirit of the 2024 International Day of Education, the APNIEVE International Conference and National Convention aims to:

1. Provide a platform for participants to explore and discuss effective strategies for integrating values education into curricula to promote peace, justice, and inclusion.
2. Equip educators with the knowledge, skills, and resources needed to effectively teach values that promote peace, justice, and inclusion in diverse educational settings.
3. Facilitate collaboration and knowledge-sharing among educators, policymakers, researchers, and practitioners to advance values education for lasting peace, justice, and inclusion.
4. Inspire participants to take concrete actions in their respective contexts to promote values education for lasting peace, justice, and inclusion, fostering a collective commitment to positive social change.

Conference Sub Themes

The sub-themes outlined below encompass a comprehensive approach to values education within the context of promoting peace, countering hate speech, and fostering inclusive communities. They also focus on promoting innovative teaching strategies for integrating peace into the curriculum.

1. Promoting Tolerance and Understanding: Focusing on educational strategies and initiatives aimed at fostering empathy, tolerance, and mutual respect among individuals and communities. Integrating dialogue, understanding, and cooperation among people of different faiths, cultures, and backgrounds in the classroom.
2. Critical Thinking, Media Literacy, and Countering Hate Speech: Examining the role of education in developing critical thinking skills and media literacy to recognize and counter hate speech in traditional and digital media platforms.
3. Peace Education Curriculum Development: Discussing approaches to integrating peace education into formal and informal curricula at all levels of education, from primary schools to universities.
4. Global Citizenship Education and Youth Engagement for Peacebuilding: Fostering values, attitudes, and skills that empower individuals to contribute to a more peaceful, just, and sustainable world. Highlighting the importance of empowering young people as agents of positive change and peacebuilding through education, activism, and community engagement.
5. Gender Equality and Peace Education: Analyzing the intersection of gender equality and peace education, including the importance of addressing gender-based violence and promoting women's participation in peacebuilding efforts.

6. Teacher Training and Capacity Building: Discussing strategies for equipping educators with the knowledge, skills, and resources needed to effectively teach and integrate peace education in diverse classroom settings.
7. Concern for the Environment, Human Rights, and Safety: Concern for the environment, human rights, and safety cultivates a sense of responsibility and empathy among students and teachers, fostering a culture of respect and cooperation essential for peaceful coexistence.

The themes revolve around leading-edge thinking, innovative approaches, and practices about values education and international education for lasting peace; and the gaps where more research and strategies are needed. The sub-themes are situated within the context of APNIEVE's twin thrusts: values education and international education, and APNIEVE's core values of peace, human rights, democracy, gender equity, and sustainable development, to achieve inclusive and quality education by 2030.

Presentations will focus on basic research, applied research, best practices, and module/lesson demonstrations. Presentations on research and best practices will be on the different sub-themes. Workshops will concentrate on enhancing competencies and research in leadership, values education, and international education. Lesson demonstrations/modules (45 minutes) will focus on GMRC/Values education lessons and the integration of values education across the curriculum. For DepEd teachers please use the template that APNIEVE will provide upon request.

Please send your abstracts (250 words) and lesson plans to Dr. Maria Lourdes Quisumbing-Baybay, apnieve.ph@gmail.com for assessment on or before October 15, 2024.

Convention fee inclusive of annual membership dues for onsite participation is P3,000 and for online participation via Zoom is P1,400 (local) or $25 (international). Application for CPD Program Accreditation is on-going.

For registration and reservation, please pay via Bank of the Philippine Islands, Katipunan Avenue, Loyola Heights, Quezon City; Account Name: APNIEVE; Account Number: 6861-0315-68; Swift/BIC code: BOPIPHMM or through GCash Maria Lourdes Q. Baybay 09064533760.
